The Cheerful Philosopher

FERRIS HARTMAN IS DEAD

That was the headline the other morning. A few days before the information was telegraphed throughout the land that he had been found in a room in San Francisco, within a short distance from the scene of many of his triumphs. When found, he was in the last stages of starvation. The papers say that he was "too proud to beg." I wonder how much good it would have done him, if he had humbled himself and asked for help. To whom could he have gone who would not have heralded the fact that "poor old Ferris Hartman came to me today, flat broke." Not in unkindness, but just naturally in the ordinary procedure nine persons out of ten could not perform an act of charity without telling of the plight of the recipient. It isn't that they mean to be unkind or to exploit their own bigness of heart, but, well, it seems that it simply isn't done.

Poor old Ferris Hartman knew this and preferred to die of starvation rather than tell his plight to even charity authorities. And the papers, in giving details, go into raptures in telling of the offers of all kinds of "assistance" that "have come pouring in." After he has gone, yes. There is something in human nature that impels one to somehow enjoy feeling that one "would have done, if one had known." Well, if some of you who have come to this too late realization and are breaking your necks to give genuine help to others deeply needing, I'll get you many addresses of others who are highly worthy, but who are just as reluctant to tell their troubles as poor old Ferris Hartman was.

That's why I have longed to see a "Clearing House" come into existence somewhere between Los Angeles and Hollywood, an organization to which every reputable man and woman in the community could belong, with dues of $1 or $2 a year. Human men and women would be paid proper salaries to execute the work to be done, but I know that thousands of those who have the time and the means, would proudly, gladly, take a deep interest in knowing of individual cases and looking after them personally.

But the BIG THING would be that any member should have the privilege of giving a card to any seriously needy person who might come to their notice. That card would mean that the giver knew that the recipient was worthy and IN NEED. Upon receipt of the card, the paid assistants would, after a rapid diagnosis, give IMMEDIATE help, whether it be food at the moment, money, or any other necessity. In no sense would it be a "Charity" organization. Nobody could be served with anything without the card from a member who, automatically, becomes a sponsor. The finest part of it all is that the recipient would not be made to feel, as poor Ferris Hartman would have felt, that he was an object of charity. On the contrary, he was being the honored guest of those who were trying to express their gratitude to God, for the good fortune which was theirs.

If this institution were to come to be, thousands would be made happier in the proof of the knowledge that it really is "more blessed to give than to receive." And thousands of others, heavy hearted, sad, would be made to see the sunshine.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

So are a lot of other things, including earthquakes, rents, football and a lot of other things. But there is one good thing in these later years. One needn't look forward to Christmas with anything like the dread of other days. When I was a kid, I remember a cousin of my father's, a very charitable, thoughtful woman whose hobby was Christmas gifts. For years she had made a study of the subject. She had a regular list and when any dropped out because of death, bankruptcy, or any other reason, she added another. But she never gave to anyone who didn't remember her the following year. Some of the presents she received occasionally saw the light, or rather, were seen, but she made a note of who possibly saw each. Not Christmas, at least nine tenths of the gifts of the year were on their way to some other person on the list. In other words, the "Little Buttercup," she "kissed those babies up," and so she really never was covered.

Strange occupation, you will say, but she made a lot of people happy, including herself. I must

CONSPICUOUS PART FOR LOCAL PRIESTS AT GREAT CEREMONY

A group of priests from the Passionist Fathers retreat here played a conspicuous part in the celebration of a Pontifical mass at the Olympic Stadium in Los Angeles last Sunday as a part of the La Fiesta program. Headed by the Provincial Rev. Father Thomas Carter, the group led a procession of the various Catholic brotherhoods. Others in the Sierra Madre group were Fathers Eddin, Leo, Leandro, Angelo, Casimir and Quinten. Over 200 Sierra Madreans attended the mass which was one of the most magnificent religious ceremonies ever staged in America.

Roman Sees Reds Ruling In Germany

Head Of Sierra Madre Forum
Writes Of Conditions In Land Of Communists

Beer is $1.25 a glass. A four-mile taxi ride costs $6. It costs a dollar to have a shirt laundered and twenty-five cents for a handkerchief. These are some of the conditions encountered in Moscow, Russia, by Dr. Frederick Roman, lecturer who conducts Sierra Madre and other forums and about which he has written local friends during a tour of Russia. He spent some time in Germany.

City Protected Against Damage Claims At School

Full public liability insurance, which will protect the local school district against damages for injuries received to person or property as a result of dangerous or defective condition of public property or negligence or carelessness of a public officer, has been taken out by the school board.

The policies, which are now in the hands of the County counsel for checking and approval, are required by an act of the Legislature this year.

The new law makes it unnecessary for the school districts to carry large sums of money in their budgets to provide payment of judgments received against them.

New Highway Shows Up In Valley As A Serpentine Drive

Visible from the valley below, the serpentine extension of north Santa Anita avenue is rapidly climbing the hills in the direction of Roberts Camp, which is to be its temporary terminus. A crew of 35 men, eight of whom are from Sierra Madre, are working with machinery and shovel to provide an auto entrance into the mountains.

Built entirely by the county, the road now being graded, will be independent of the present Santa Anita road to the dam, and will be built higher than that road.

GROUND BROKEN FOR NEW $75,000 MONASTERY OF THE PASSIONIST FATHERS

Ground was broken on Monte Oliva, on the northern boundary of Sierra Madre on Wednesday, for construction of the new $75,000 monastery of the Passionist Fathers.

It will be built upon plans drawn by Rev. Father Edmund Walsh, a member of the Passionist order, by W. J. Schiltz, a Sierra Madre contractor, in the main by Sierra Madre workmen and is scheduled for completion within nine months.

City Moves For Protection Of Its Unemployed

For the protection of Sierra Madre's unemployed, the local City employment bureau is now requiring that registrants for employment shall at the time of their registration present a voter's registration receipt or a tax receipt, either of which fixes the bona fide residence of the registrant.

The purpose is to prevent the registration here of outsiders and their subsequent employment on public projects. Quite a number of local registrants have already been given employment on the Santa Anita highway and on the widening and repaving of Sierra Madre and Baldwin avenues. With the beginning of work on the Canyon Park paving contracts, others will find employment.

Also the county will shortly draw upon the lists of unemployed of the various communities for workmen on the San Gabriel flood control dams and it is expected a number will be taken from here. It was in order that none but Sierra Madreans shall be drawn on this city's quota that City Business Manager Myers issued an order that definite proof of residence here should be required of all unemployment registrations taken at the City Hall.

Local Workmen Are Given Preference On The Canyon Job

Pouring of cement for the retaining wall of Sturtevant Road is taking place today in the canyon. The wall, three feet thick in places and steel reinforced, will enable the street to handle heavy traffic.

Grading on Woodland Drive, which is part of the canyon project is now being done. Large trees which would prevent the widening of the road to 20 feet, have been removed. This will be the first street to be finished in the canyon.

Sixteen men, the majority of whom are from Sierra Madre, are now employed on the project, according to Jack Bingham, one of the contractors. Only the nucleus of the construction crew are from the contractor's own office. Hiring of the men is handled by the city engineer's office in the city hall.

FORMER ALABAMAN PASSES FOUR SCORE

Surrounded by his children, grandchildren and friends, T. R. Kimbrough of 167 East Montecito avenue, celebrated his 81st birthday on Wednesday at his home. He was born in Alabama in 1850 and moved to West Tennessee in 1869, where he was married in 1874. He also made his home in Texas and Colorado before coming to Sierra Madre, which he declares is the only place to live. Mrs. Kimbrough passed away in 1928 and was laid to rest in Sierra Madre Cemetery. Mr. Kimbrough has two daughters and one son residing in California and one son in Denver, Colo. He was engaged in the shoe business for over 50 years. Among those present to help him celebrate his birthday were his daughter, Mrs. F. A. Lanterman, and husband and family of Monrovia, and his son, R. C. Kimbrough, and wife and family of Los Angeles.

NO TRAFFIC DELAY WHILE FOOTHILL BOULEVARD IS PAVED

The County Supervisors have appropriated $60,000 for the widening and repaving of Foothill Boulevard from Sierra Madre avenue to Allen street in Pasadena. The work will be undertaken in connection with the general improvement of Foothill Boulevard from the Monrovia city limits west and without interruption to traffic, the Road Department having planned to confine its work to one half of the boulevard at one time.

OPENING OF SCHOOL BRINGS A PLEA FOR CAREFUL DRIVING

Markers for pedestrian crossings in Sierra Madre are receiving a new coat of paint this week in preparation for school. The work is being done by Charles Peterson. An officer will be stationed at the grammar school crossing every day at noon during the school year to caution drivers have been cautioned to use exceptional care throughout the city during the periods when the children are going to and from the schools.

SCHOOL TAX CUT 36 CENTS

Levy For All Purposes Here
Is 59 Cents Lower Than
For Fiscal Year 1930-31

Taxes assessed against Sierra Madre property for all purposes this year are 59 cents per $100 of assessed valuation lower than last year.

Following a reduction of 23 cents in the rate for municipal purposes recently made by the City Council, the School Board this week announced a reduction in the rate for school purposes of 36 cents or at the rate of $2.05 per $100 of valuation.

The millage for county purposes having been fixed by the supervisors at last year's rating of 88 cents and the flood control rate of 10 cents being continued, Sierra Madreans this year will pay a total assessment for all purposes of $5.02 as against $5.61 for the year 1930-31.

The following table shows the comparative figures for the two years:

	'31-32	'30-31
School Tax	$2.05	$2.41
City Tax	1.99	2.22
County Tax	.88	.88
County Flood Control	.10	.10
Total	$5.02	$5.61

The school tax was levied to meet the following fixed charges:
County elementary $262
County high school 192
Elementary building special 16
Elementary building special 45
Old bonds08
High school special70
High school bonds07
High school bonds02
Junior college116

None of the taxes assessed for 1931-32 will be applied to the school bonds voted for the new school building.

City Asked To Help Fight Application Of The Railroads

Sierra Madre has been requested to have official representatives present at hearings shortly to be held by the State Railroad Commission on applications filed by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads, the former to entirely abandon and the latter to operate its station in Arcadia only during half of each day.

Arcadia's City Council and Chamber of Commerce are greatly agitated over applications filed with the Commission by the railroads and are asking the co-operation of all the surrounding communities in fighting the proposals on the ground that Sierra Madre, Duarte and other towns are as vitally interested as Arcadia itself.

A very large percentage of Sierra Madre's winter visitors use the Santa Anita station which is just south of this city between Foothill Boulevard and Huntington Drive.

The move of the railroads is a part of the retrenchment programs adopted by both railroad systems.

New Commander To Install Officers Of The Legion Post

Clarence O. Barton, commander of the Eighteenth District, American Legion, will formally install the newly elected officers of Post 267, Sierra Madre, on the night of September 21. The public is invited to the installation, which will be impressive.

A pot luck supper Tuesday night took the place of the regular Monday meeting. The affair was well attended. Cyrus Young was awarded a gold watch in a contest conducted by the post.

FIRE CHIEF WARNS CANYON RESIDENTS

While the Canyon Park roads are torn up and almost inaccessible during the paving job now under way, Chief W. D. Richards warns the residents of the Canyon to be very careful of fires because he fears that a fire would gain great headway before the local fire department would be able to get to the scene.

HAPGOOD RE-ENTERS DECORATING BUSINESS

With William Summersgill as his partner, George Haggood, well-known resident of Sierra Madre for many years, has resumed his business as painter and decorator, which he carried on in Sierra Madre and Pasadena for ten years. Before entering into the business of decorating and painting, he was engaged in the decorating department of the Sierra Studios, which did work for the West Coast Theatres. In 1920 he was employed by Goldwyn-Myers Studios in Culver City in the miniature and scenic departments. Haggood and Summersgill will make their headquarters at the rear of 42 North Baldwin avenue.

Observations

—By LEE SHIPPEY—

W. R. Humphries has been sent out to work for the Red Cross throughout the Southwest. The Red Cross is to be congratulated. He has the greatest natural genius for this kind of work I ever saw. In spite of small town jealousies, he has made Sierra Madre the envy of all other Red Cross Chapters. He should be working for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce or some other large organization. The only trouble is that in this town he is like on ocean liner in a duck pond.

PRESENT BIG PROTEST AGAINST CENTRAL AVE. IMPROVEMENT

Signers And Speakers Urge Abandonment Of City's 22-
Year Campaign For The Project

RECALL ELECTION IS STIRRED UP

Payment Of Obligations Incurred By Old Council Is A Factor—Hearing Is Continued To September 23

A protest against the carrying through of Sierra Madre's campaign of 22 years in behalf of the Central Avenue improvement was presented at a hearing on the proposal held by the City Council last night.

Proponents of the anti-improvement movement declared that their petition represented the owners of between 750 and 800 acres of Sierra Madre real estate.

A discussion in which much of the political history of the city during the last two years was permitted following formal presentation of the written protest and at a late hour the Council continued the hearing until the night of Wednesday, September 23rd when additional petitions may be presented.

In last night's proceedings the Council itself did not

Big Salamander Comes Here A Gift To Local School

Hazako, received this week by Sierra Madre Red Cross Juniors as a gift from far-off Japan, is now a strange pet at the grammar school.

Hazako is a Sansho-uwu, or giant salamander, and was caught in Nishi-wara Mura, Gunjo County, Gifu Prefecture, Japan. He breathes through his gills, and is now about a foot long. His full grown length will be about five feet.

With the hoary appearance of age, he greatly resembles a large lizard. Hazako was caught by Japanese Red Cross Juniors.

He was shipped to San Francisco headquarters of the Red Cross and then brought to Sierra Madre by W. R. Humphries. Miss Elizabeth Steinberger officially installed him in the Japanese garden at the school to keep him from becoming homesick.

The gift to the local Juniors came about through correspondence and interchange of gifts with Japanese children. Hazako has the distinction of being the strangest gift ever received.

Real Treat In Store For Ball Fans

Play-off Games For Legion
And City League Championships Next Week

A baseball season that furnished many thrills and almost endless entertainment for Sierra Madre throughout the summer will come to a climax next week when the local American Legion team begins a play-off series with Pasadena for the championship of the American Legion League of the Eighteenth District and Moran's Builders and the Ice-men tangle for the championship of the Sierra Madre City League.

The first game of the American Legion play-off will be staged on the San Marino diamond Monday night between the Sierra Madre soldiers, who led the eight clubs of the Legion League during the first half of the season, and Pasadena, leaders of the second half.

The second game of this series will be played on the local school athletic field Thursday night. If a third game is necessary to determine the championship, it will be played on the Arcadia field a week from next Wednesday night.

The first game of the City League play-off is scheduled for the local field on Wednesday night, the second game on Friday night. If the third game is necessary it will be played next week on a night to be determined later.

The City League play-off games will be featured by incidental original stunts and an effort will be made to raise funds for the equipment of the two local Boy Scout troops. Demonstrations by the Scouts themselves will be given before each ball game.

To fill out a week of real baseball thrills, the Sierra Madre All-Stars will meet the Sweet Craft Crew, an aggregation of crack Los Angeles amateurs on Tuesday night at the school athletic field.

NEW JOBBING HOUSE OPENS BUSINESS HERE

Announcement is made this week of the opening of the Sierra Madre Jobbing Store at 8 North Baldwin avenue on Monday morning, September 14. The store will deal mostly in stocks secured from bankrupt establishments. Various kinds of dry goods will be handled.

participate beyond acceptance of the written petition and to insist on verbal protests by property owners.

The hearing was enlivened by several questions of fact and by the manifestation of no little personal concern and animosity. E. Waido Ward, for instance, based his opposition not only against the employment of the legislative authority under which it is proposed to carry through the improvement, but upon the fact that 20 years ago he had been assessed more than $100 for the construction of gutters on East Central Avenue. It was, he said, to propose that these gutters should be torn out to make way for new ones when they would answer the purpose for another 100 years.

There were proposals that the whole proceedings for the improvement of Central Avenue be abandoned; that the project be postponed for a year; that it be indefinitely postponed and as against the city's long advocacy of the idea, it was urged that Sierra Madre did not need another outlet by way of Central Avenue.

The Council chamber was filled and interested citizens crowded all of the entrances. Some laughed derisively when H. J. F. Hanemann, engineer, predicted that if the present proceedings were halted the Central Avenue project would not be revived in five years or more.

Throughout the hearing there was a constant discussion of an obligation incurred by the city for carrying on the Central Avenue project prior to the recall election of 1929 in which former Councilmen Joseph Belohlavek and Henry E. Isaacs were recalled. It was precipitated at the outset of the hearing by Mr. Belohlavek who demanded to know "how this $19,000 had been spent."

"I admit," he said, "I was one of the men who spent $9000. I would like to know how the other $10,000 was spent. We got $10,000 from the county and Mr. Jones of the road department said it was spent all right. That money will not be charged against the taxpayers."

Mayor Reavis said that there were bills for which the former City Council had obligated the city that accounted for the $19,000—that the sum had not all been paid but was owing.

Suggestions followed that some way be found to pay these obligations of the former Council together with those incurred by the present improvement proposal and that the proceedings be dropped. There was no discussion as to the manner in which the funds for this purpose might be raised, now that the tax levy has been fixed for the current year.

The proceedings were enlivened by a dialogue between the former Councilman Henry E. Isaacs and Mrs. Jessica H. Wright, secretary of the Central Avenue Improvement.

ARREST TO FOLLOW TAKING PARK TREES

A warning has been issued that anyone caught digging out small trees in Bailey Canyon will be prosecuted. A number of trees that were planted by the Sierra Madre firemen have been taken away recently by persons who did not realize their value in the canyon planting scheme laid out by the City Planning Commission.

ADOPT RULES FOR SCHOOL CAFETERIA

A set of rules to be followed at the Grammar School Cafeteria and for the distribution of recess milk during the coming school year has been adopted.

One rule requires that recess milk be paid for in advance, and for a month at a time. No rebate will be allowed for absence, unless it is for a week or longer. A child will be allowed to start recess milk only on Monday after notification the previous Friday.

Tickets for the cafeteria can be secured in advance, although a child may bring cash for lunch each day, if it is more convenient.

FIVE BIG PICTURES ON ARCADIA SCREEN

Charles Ruggles, the droll but cherubic-looking comedian of "Young Man of Manhattan," "Her Wedding Night" and other successful farces, is to be seen at the Arcadia Theatre today and tomorrow in his first starring picture "The Girl Habit." In this picture Ruggles is definitely launched by his sponsors into a career of stardom. Supporting him in the cast are Allen Jenkins and Tamara Geva.

"The Miracle Woman," which will be shown on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, provides emotional stimulation. Humor, pathos and stirring dramatic quality, not to mention the superlative acting of Barbara Stanwyck, combine to make this picture one of the better ones of the season.

Maybe an old dog cannot be taught new tricks, but there is no law that prevents him from adopting them. In "Young As You Feel," which will be presented four days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Will Rogers discards the personal habits of a lifetime and appears for the first time on stage or screen as a well-groomed, Bond Street tailored gentleman. Fifi Dorsay enacts the chief supporting role.

Usefulness Of The Library Growing; Patrons Increase

Memoirs of a U. S. Army Intelligence Service officer during war time days, including breaking down of secret codes and capturing of spies are revealed in Herbert O. Yardley's book, "American Black Chamber," received this month by the Sierra Madre library.

According to Miss Lulu Moore, librarian, two exciting crime novels received also this month were "Crime Conductor" by McDonald, and "Murder at Hazelmoor" by Christie.

Fiction books received at the library this month include "Hatter's Cat" by Cronin; "Dance Partner" by Ruck; "Shadow on the Rock" by Cather; "White Bird Flying" by Aldrich; "Happy Valley" by Brand; "Grass Root" by Kang; "Son of Arizona" by Seltzer; "Simple Peter Crad" by Oppenheim; "Shortest Night" by Stern; "Irish Beauties" by Barrington.

Non-fiction books include "Paul Gauguin" by Becker; "Green Hell" by Duguid; "Sixty Years of Health and Physics" by Stubbs; "Challenger" by Barker; "Flame of Islam" by Lamb; "Nemesis of American Business" by Chase; "Memoirs of Prince von Bulow"; and "Mirrors of 1932."

During the month of August, 4714 books, of which 3749 were adult, and 965 juvenile, were borrowed from the library. This is a gain of 574 books over the same month last year. Twenty-one borrowers registered for borrower's privileges during the month.

Permanent Bridge On Sturtevant Tr. Is Canyon Demand

Replacement of a temporary bridge over little Santa Anita channel at Sturtevant Drive is being asked of the Los Angeles County Flood Control Commission by the Canyon Improvement Association.

The problem of securing a new bridge to replace the present unsightly structure occupied a good deal of the civic association's meeting Thursday night in the clubhouse on Woodland Drive.

The bridge was built as a temporary structure six years ago after a flood had washed away the former one. A final effort will be made now to have a wider, permanent bridge built before the paving of Sturtevant road is completed.

Reports on civic improvement matters, particularly the Central avenue project and the Santa Anita extension, were received and discussed.

Mrs. Laura Cline, Miss Laura E. Cadmus and Mrs. James C. Healey were appointed a committee to perfect ways and means of concealing trash and garbage cans at Woodland Drive and Brookside Lane. They will confer with city officials.

Officers will be elected Thursday night, October 1.

many before entering the land of the Communists and predicts that within a year the German republic will "fall."

"The Fascist will gain control of Germany for awhile then the Communists will get a trial," writes Dr. Roman, and he adds:

"The consequences for Europe are likely to be quite serious. The United States will be certain to feel the coming conflagration. It all means that economic ideals and practice are far in arrears of the times."

Living costs in Moscow are from 50 to 75 per cent higher now than they were when he was in Moscow two years ago. Dr. Roman writes. Meals are expensive, he says, though the foreigner can get plenty of food if he has "plenty" of money. Describing the Russian meal served visitors he says "the bread is nothing remarkable, the butter is white and not too bad" there is plenty of cabbage soup, the meat "is nothing over which to get excited" and the service is very slow.

The transportation problem is one of the most serious hindrances to enjoyment of a trip in Russia for Americans who are accustomed to rapid transit and a great abundance of conveyances. Conveyances of any kind are few and far between. The honor of being Japan's second woman doctor of medicine has been conferred on Miss Hiroko Ide, head of the Ide Hospital, Yokosuka.

—even the old Russian droschky, are very scarce throughout the land of the Soviets.

"They would take millions of our automobiles if we would take their lumber, furs, wheat and other products," writes Dr. Roman.

The prices charged for beer bring temperance, he says. Sixty percent of the price of vodka, the Russian high-powered alcoholic beverage, is profit to the state which handles the liquor business, but Dr. Roman says the Communist official in charge of this government activity advised him that this 60 percent profit was used on propaganda to discourage the use of alcoholics. The state makes and sells liquor but in every place where it is sold there are immense placards telling how detrimental to health the stuff is, how it lowers efficiency, on which the Soviets put a premium, and interferes with the enjoyment of life at its best.

Open Tennis Tournament Register

Deadline For Entrants Is Fixed For September 23
With Finals October 10

Entries for Sierra Madre's annual tennis tournament are now being received by Emile Smith, president of the Sierra Madre Tennis Association, sponsors of the affair. The deadline for registration will be September 23. This year's tournament, to be played on the City Park Courts, will include the following classes: Senior division, men's singles; doubles; women's division, singles and doubles; junior division, singles and doubles. Culmination of the tourney is planned for October 10, and will be one of the features of Sierra Madre's semi-centennial celebration. Presentation of trophies and medals will be made on that day. Entrance fee for juniors will be 25 cents, and seniors, 50 cents. Membership in the tennis association, which is one dollar, and six months' residence in Sierra Madre are requisites for tourney entrance.

Silver loving cups and medals will be given to winners this year. The membership and entrance fees will be used to purchase these. After registration has taken place, players will be seeded and matches begun. Randolph Wood, who captured the singles crown last year and assisted Emile Smith in taking the doubles championship, will again enter the tournament. Wilma Morrow, who took the women's singles, will also enter again. Mixed doubles last year were won by Wayne Perry and Mrs. Gordon McMillen.

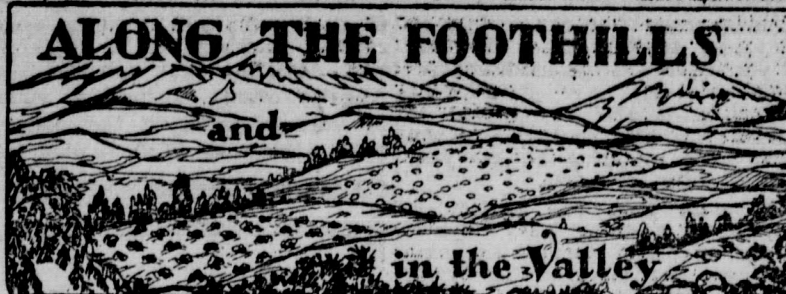

Forest Official Sees Fire Menace At Its Height Now

The forest fire menace, not only in Southern California but throughout the state, is the worst in its history according to E. V. Lackey, administrative assistant to the Regional United States Forester who was in Sierra Madre early this week while on an inspection tour of the Angeles National Forest. Mr. Lackey's headquarters are in San Francisco and he spent much of the summer in the forests and reservations in the north. The recent freak storms and showers in the southern area were only of temporary benefit in reducing the fire hazard, he said, because of the unusual summer heat which has quickly dried up the moisture. Mr. Lackey reported that cooperation between the government service and the fire fighting agencies of the foothill communities was admirable and much to be desired from the local as well as the government standpoint and that it was particularly fortunate that there is such a thorough understanding at this time when the danger is so very great.

NOTED ACTOR-SINGER TAKES LEADING ROLE

Appearing as a guest artist Richard Hale, noted operatic concert singer and stage actor, will play the leading masculine role in the Lewis Dodd in the initial western production of "The Constant Nymph" adapted from the popular novel by Margaret Kennedy and Basil Dean, to be presented at the Pasadena Community Playhouse, September 11 to 26th.

"The Constant Nymph" follows the conclusion of the current play, "The Sheckled Band" by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, which, with Ralph Freud as Sherlock Holmes, closes Saturday, September 12.

The Pasadena Trustees have passed an ordinance creating the title of Mayor on the chairman of the board and giving the Crown City a titular head.

Col. E. P. Bailey of San Marino has incorporated the "Dwight W. Morrow for President Club" and plans to open branches throughout the United States, boosting the New Jersey Senator and former Ambassador to Mexico for the Republican Presidential nomination.

Jews To Celebrate Arrival Of New Year At New Temple

By HAROLD KELTZ

Rosh Hashonah, the Hebrew New Year, will be ushered in tonight with Shofar blasts by the new Temple Beth Israel. Services of the New Year will continue through Saturday and Sunday, closing with Yom Kippur, Monday, September 21. Celebration of the New Year reaches back to Biblical times, occurring on what is believed to be the anniversary of the creation. According to count, the year 5692 from the earth's beginning as recorded in the Bible begins at sundown tonight.

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, beginning at sundown September 20 with the singing of the ritual song Kol Nidre, is considered the most holy day of the Hebrew calendar. On this day Jews ask forgiveness of their sins and repent by fasting. Services this year are the first to be held in the new Temple Beth Israel. Cantor Morris Sklar, of Los Angeles, will conduct the services. New Year rites will be held tonight at 6 o'clock, tomorrow morning at 8:30, and at the corresponding times Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Old People's Home Will Be Dedicated Here September 22

Sir John Adams will deliver the opening address at the formal dedication of the British Old People's Home on Manzanita near Sierra Madre avenue on Tuesday, September 22, under the auspices of the Daughters of the British Empire. The exercises are scheduled for 2 o'clock on the afternoon of that day and will bring here representatives from several chapters of the organization and many interesting persons from the cities of Southern California. The San Francisco chapter will send a committee.

Broken bits of glass, the remains of a camera's pickle or olive bottle, perhaps, are a dangerous forest fire hazard, according to the Conservation Association. Pieces of glass are believed to act as lenses, concentrating the sun's rays upon dry litter and heating it to the point of combustion.

Contending that prohibition is responsible for gang control and lawlessness in New York and Chicago, leaders of the "Crusaders" movement are organizing chapters throughout Southern California. The organization is nation-wide in scope and is opposed to the 18th amendment. A large chapter with headquarters in Puente has been organized, its members being residents of Puente, Walnut, North Whittier and West Covina.

The walnut orchards of Puente and West Covina are being given their first shake of the season. The unusually warm weather of this summer has hastened the ripening of the walnut crop throughout the San Gabriel Valley and it will be harvested early this year.

World Conditions Viewed In Light Of The Scriptures

Every nation is facing a crisis and Bethany's pastor believes it behooves mankind to study the cause. Everyone is cordially invited to hear this interesting series of sermons at Bethany Church.

FAVORITE AVOCADO IS RIPENING EARLY

The first 1931-32 season fuertes, predominate calavo type of avocados, are arriving at the packinghouse in Los Angeles from Encinitas and Carlsbad "early bloom" districts of San Diego county.

Growers are requested by B. C. Stephens, production manager, to have sample fruit of this "early bloom" variety tested for oil content at the packinghouse before proceeding with picking, due to the difficulty in judging maturity by eye at this time of the year. Several lots of fruit arriving from the south coast district in the last few days have been found to be below the state law requirements for maturity.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

DESPITE the ability of the boys to figure things out, our last "single" member slipped one over on us. "Mac" and Marie were quietly married and they were so fearful that the firemen would interrupt their plans that they forced the minister to perform the ceremony almost in a whisper and to dim the lights during the "procedure." We must acknowledge defeat at the hands of the two of them, but mark our words—there is a great day coming. And regardless of the fact that we were outwitted, we have inside information that "Mac" didn't know where or on which finger to place the ring.

We don't know what has become of Joe Swanson. He was granted a vacation starting on the first of the month—and he hasn't been seen since. Chances are that Joe has piled the three children into his car and beat it to the tall timbers. Baseball in the fire department has taken on a spurt. We won a game last week, and now we know we can play. Bob Babbitt is showing class at the third bag, that is second to none, unless it would be Vin Fleming. Fleming is the champion emotional player of the entire league. When he gets up to bat, it is a guess whether he is going to bunt, hit, or fall over in a spasm.

And now since the ladies have had their meeting, we will have ours. Tonight is the night, so all good fellows be on time. For some reason the Chief is somewhat worried over the possibility that we may have a big fire. He says that folks should not be too sure about their incinerators. He said that he finds an incinerator here and there that is placed right near a building and many times a garage. He has found that sometimes some one will throw an oily rag out into the yard and near the incinerator and then light the thing and go away. One little spark would start the rag ablaze and then the rag starts the dry grass, the grass starts the garage, the garage starts the fence and the fence starts the house and then the lady of the house starts to the phone and then the fire department starts to the fire and soon the

"What are the best avocado varieties to plant in the garden?" I realize it is a hard question to answer as there are so many excellent ones. But I have my favorites, and these are the ones I will talk about.

In the first place one should plan to have fruit throughout the year. This is quite possible if one will plant four or five trees of the right varieties, for there are avocados for every season and by planting a few extra trees you can have the fruit overlapping each other so that there will be no danger of ever running out of it.

We will start first with the Fuerte which is the favorite commercial variety. The Fuerte, which is a pear-shaped fruit, green in color, weighing about three-quarters to one pound, is one of the best in flavor and quality. You can begin to eat the Fuerte fruit about the first of February and it will hang on the tree, if you wish, until May and still be good. So the Fuerte will take care of the months of February, March, April and May and you can find no variety that will be better for these months.

For May and June, we have found the Mayapan an excellent fruit. It is nearly round in shape, purple in color, a large fruit, weighing about a pound and of splendid quality. The tree grows quite slender, so does not take up much room in the garden.

For June, July and August, the Nabal variety is the best, as it is a very high-class fruit like the Fuerte. It weighs about a pound, is green in color and is almost round in shape.

For late summer, August, September and October, the Itzama variety is splendid. It is a fine looking fruit, about one pound in weight, green in color and has a most excellent flavor.

For fall and early winter, or October, November, December and January, we can well recommend our own Ward. It has proven the best producer of all the varieties we have grown, coming into bearing the second year after planting and always contributing with large crops. In fact, it is apt to over-bear and should be thinned when it sets a heavy crop. The fruit is dark purple when ripe and weighs three-quarters to one pound each. The quality is excellent. The parent Ward tree is growing at our nursery on North Mountain Trail avenue and is well worth seeing, as it now has a crop on it estimated at from 600 to 800 pounds.

Another fine winter variety is the Puebla. It is not as large as the other varieties mentioned but it is a rich flavored fruit and a good bearer. It has a thin skin and weighs about half a pound. Almost any seedling avocado tree can be budded into these good varieties. We do not advise budding more than one variety on a young seedling tree. However, if you have a large seedling tree with several low growing branches, it can be grafted to several varieties so that you can have fruit maturing all the year around from one tree.

If more than one variety is budded on a young tree, the tree is apt to grow lopsided as some varieties are more rank-growing than others and will take all the strength from the others. On the larger tree it does not matter as different limbs can be grafted to different varieties.

of their hulls and dropping very rapidly, according to M. H. Kimball, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county. Inspection made in various parts of the county during the week of September 1st indicates that growers are not fully aware of the fact that harvest season is fully two and a half weeks earlier than usual and that harvesting operations should be started at once.

THE CHEERFUL PHILOSOPHER ...

have inherited some of that Christmas spirit. For years I have had a barrel of fun publishing Christmas Cards. And this year I hope and expect to enjoy more than ever before.

Nearly every one is talking about "Economy," even about Christmas Cards. So I am going to publish some different cards—new and original (artists send in your handiwork because I want to encourage you.) in three colors and hand colored an' ev'rything, and all for ten cents each. That's how I'll meet "Ole Man Depression," with a smile and an artistic one. They will tell of Foothills and Wistaria and Oranges and Mountains, all of the grand things that abound in and about Sierra Madre. And they will be printed right here, in the print shop of "The News." So, before ordering, wait and see OURS. And we will print your name on them, an' ev'rything.

FOR HE CANNOT READ HIS TOMBSTONE WHEN HE'S DEAD

If with pleasure you are viewing, Any work a man is doing, And you like him, or you love him, Tell him now. Don't withhold your approbation Till the parson makes oration And he lies, with snowy lilies On his brow. For no matter how you shout it, He won't really care about it. He won't know how many tears-drops You have shed. If you think some praise is due him, Now's the time to slip it to him. For he cannot read his tombstone When he's dead.

More than praise and more than money, Is the comment, kind and sunny, And the hearty, warm approval, Of a friend.

For it gives to life a savor, Makes him stronger, braver, Gives him heart and spirit, To the end. If he earns your praise, bestow it, If you like him, let him know it, Let your words of real encouragement be said.

Do not wait till life is over And he's underneath the clover, For he cannot read his tombstone, When he's dead.

Those who insist on choosing the laws they will obey have an ample supply to select from. Italian reformers are crusading against petting parties. Appropriately enough, the movement started in Bologna.

Harvest days are here again bringing bountiful rewards for man's faith and work

We manage each ceremony with a deep sense of obligation to those we serve.

Over 600 Will Answer School Bell

Wilson Pupils Must Register Tomorrow — Reduction Made In Bus Rates

More than 600 young Sierra Madrans will answer the school bells marking the close of vacation season on Monday morning. Practically all of the junior college and junior high school pupils have completed their registrations and are ready to resume their classes with the tap of the gong. Registration begins today at St. Rita's Parochial school where it is estimated the attendance will be between 85 and 90 this semester. The grammar school attendance for the semester is estimated at about 350 and classes will start at 8:30 and 8:50.

It is estimated that 150 local students will be registered at Woodrow Wilson Junior high school in Pasadena this year. Arthur M. Brown, principal, has urged that all students present themselves before 8 o'clock Monday morning in order that they may obtain their programs of classes which will be given out in the lower corridors.

Registrations of all new students, except 7-1's must be made before noon tomorrow (Saturday) in order that the registrants will be assigned their classes.

Junior college classes will start regularly on Tuesday morning. Freshman services will be held Sunday at 3 p.m., immediately following a freshman reception. A program for every day in the week has been scheduled. Football practice at the junior college begins next week.

Busses for the conveyance of junior high school students will leave Central and Grand View avenues at 7 and 7:30 on Monday, this schedule to be followed throughout the school term. A rate reduction has been announced for this year with a 40 percent cost of $1.00.

SHEARER GIVES HOME BUILDERS A THOUGHT

Believing that a home should have character and be more than a haterack, O. R. Shearer, well-known San Gabriel Valley designer and builder, of this city, has inaugurated an interesting series of historical advertisements in The News.

Each week the birthplace and present home of some famous personage is described and illustrated. As the series will appear regularly for some time, an opportunity is afforded to start a worthwhile historical scrap-book.

THAYER CHILDREN CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Carla and Jean Thayer of 435 Grove street, celebrated their ninth and sixth birthdays last Wednesday afternoon at their home. A color scheme of pink and white was charmingly carried out in decorations and refreshments. Swimming and riding contests were held during the afternoon. Among the guests were Alice Terry, Barbara Tiznap, Jane Terry, Barbara Gerschler, Janet Gerschler, Helen and Billy Thayer, Pamela Gaze, Bonita Williams, two Tarr children and Donald and Sylvia Thayer.

won numerous ribbons at horse shows in the West. John Kennedy of 266 Wilson avenue will again enter a group of his prize-winning fowls, which captured numerous prizes last year. An exhibit of blossoms from the Erythrina Crista Galli or Coral Trees, from the garden of Dr. W. Jarvis Barlow, entered by Mr. Kennedy, estate gardener, attracted much attention last year.

Alvin Langley of 72 E. Montecito, who won prizes last year for his avacadoes, may be unable to enter the fair this year because of the early ripening of his fruit.

This will also be the case with Mrs. Jessica H. Wright of 265 E. Central avenue. Her exhibit of strawberry guavas last year captured a ribbon. Whether any fruit will be left when the fair opens will determine the entrance of an exhibit.

A Red Cross first aid team from the volunteer fire department, consisting of Captain Joe Swanson, Vernon Udell, Robert Babbitt, Lee Hibbs and H. A. Thew will participate in a contest Monday night, September 21, with 15 other first aid teams. Competitors will include the famous Pasadena chimp team, and three from the Los Angeles Fire Department.

Sierra Madre garden enthusiasts have been especially requested to enter the fair this year and display the choice fruits and vegetables grown here. R. C. Donahaver, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, will accept all displays at the Edison office, 40 N. Baldwin, up to September 17. The entries will be taken to the fair grounds and actively arranged for exhibition.

GROUND BROKEN FOR PASSIONIST MONASTERY

year, when it will be torn down. Father Thomas Carter says his organization will use the new building as a place of prayer and meditation. "It will be open to all who wish to drop their work or business worries," he said. "A slowing down sufficient to allow one to recover his bearings on the road of life will be possible here."

The order, or Congregation of Passionists, was founded by St. Paul of the Cross, who was born in Genoa in 1694. During his lifetime he built twelve monasteries. He died in 1775 and was canonized in 1887 by Pope Pius IX. The original group expanded as the years rolled on, and today the Passionists have retreats in every part of the world. There are 16 in the United States. The rule of the order prohibits fixed revenue and the retreats are offered for solace without monetary stipulation.

Raymond Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Jones of the Sierra Madre Dairy, telephoned his home from a Pasadena hospital last night, that he was the father of a baby girl, and that both the child and mother are doing fine.

The Sierra Madre Firemen's auxiliary will sponsor a bridge tea on October 8 at the home of the Wistaria Vine on Scenic Point to which the public is invited.

Local Legionnaires Blow Up When Alhambra Goes On A Hitting Spree

Nine errors by Sierra Madre's Legion League contenders explains their defeat on Friday night by the Alhambra Legionnaires.

With a score of 6-5 in favor of Sierra Madre when Alhambra came to bat in the seventh inning, the heart of every Sierra Madrean present dropped to the lowest depths of the San Gabriel valley when a combination of misplays and really capable slugging by the visitors netted the latter seven runs and the game. The final score was 12-6. The score:

In a walkaway game Wednesday night, Moran's Construction ball team showed out 23 runs against the Firemen's 11. Half of the Firemen's team were substitutes. Jack Jensen played a spectacular game, knocking out two homers, a triple and a double during six times at bat. Ted Davis and Waverly Pratt handled the mound for the Firemen and Joby Kivon hurried for the Builders.

The local Bethany team went down before San Dimas on Monday night by a score of 17 to 6. The first half of the game was quite even, but in the sixth the visitors tallied five for a lead that was never seriously challenged. The score by innings:

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MISS V. A. WILSON

Funeral services for Miss Virginia Alice Wilson, aged 39, who passed away at her home, 1724 North Lima street, on Tuesday evening, were held on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Ray A. Grant Funeral home, with Rev. William Duncan Ogg officiating.

Miss Wilson was born in Whiting, Kan., and has been a resident of Sierra Madre for three years. She was a high school teacher for 10 years in Kansas and Oklahoma and in 1927 suffered a breakdown that compelled her to seek a leave of absence.

She was a graduate of Kansas State Teachers' College, Emporia, Kan.; University of Chicago and the University of Minnesota. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mary D. Wilson of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Mabel West, and a niece and nephew, Wilbur Wilson West and Margaret Louise West of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. West will accompany the body to Holton Kan., where an interment will be held. Funeral services will be held on Sunday in Holton.

PROTEST AGAINST CENTRAL AVE. IMPROVEMENT

provement Association. Mr. Isaacs holding a circular issued during the recall campaign of 1929, called attention to the new school building.

"The new school," said Mr. Isaacs, "was apparently the hobby of J. O. Smith, president of the Central Avenue Property Owners Association and now it seems that getting a road for nothing is the hobby of Mrs. Wright, secretary of the association."

"Speaking for myself and other property owners on East Central avenue," said Mrs. Wright, "I wish Mr. Isaacs to state here and now his foundation for the statement that we are getting a street for nothing. That statement has been made repeatedly in soliciting signatures for this protest. People have come to me and told me about it. The people on East Central avenue are paying for the paving on that street. Repeatedly the argument has been used: 'Why should the whole city pay for paving East Central so Mrs. Wright can have a street for nothing?'"

"My assessment as figured out with the assistant engineer is limited at $879.00. The property owners on East Central are paying for every cent of the paving and grading there except what the County pays—we pay for every cent of the lights. I want to know Mr. Isaacs foundation for his statement."

Mr. Belohavek said he wanted to know what the rest of the city was paying for and Mrs. Wright spoke again. The people of East Central avenue did not want this street improvement when the project was started, she said. They were and are satisfied with the street as it is. But, she said, they were told repeatedly that they were selfish and stopping a project that would be of benefit to the entire city.

"We said that if our consent was needed to put this road through the Hastings ranch and give the city an outlet, we would not stop it," said Mrs. Wright, adding: "At that time the Mattoon Act was the only chance to put the road through."

"But we said we would not and could not pay for the project under the heavy expense planned by the old Council. We said if East Central avenue was left at 65 feet, with four inch pavement and all the expensive trimmings were left off, we would pay our share."

"But we do not intend to pay all the engineering costs of the original project nor all the attorneys' fees, and title search and appraisals and other costs that had accumulated."

The two members of the Council were not recalled because they started this project under the Mattoon Act. They were recalled because they promised the property owners that the street should be 65 feet wide with a four inch pavement and West Central not paved.

"Then they went ahead and ordered appraisals and plans and maps for an 80-foot street and eight-inch paving—the whole thing is shown on the minutes and records of this city—and the people recalled them."

H. J. Kohl, Glendale real estate operator who figured largely in the proceedings, said he had the word of Supervisor Thatcher and the county road department, that the deeds for the right of way through the Hastings ranch having been secured, the county would continue Central avenue through the ranch whether or not this city improves Central avenue.

But he contended that the improvement would be practically meaningless since the improvement did not extend into the city of Pasadena.

Mrs. John Osgood accused Mr. Kohl of attempting to mislead his hearers, stating that the rights of way through properties between Sierra Madre and Pasadena secured by this city actually extended into the city limits of Pasadena.

Mr. Kohl wanted to know what kind of a road the new thoroughfare would connect up with in Pasadena.

"On a two-inch, 30-foot macadam road the same as Foot-hill Boulevard," answered City Manager A. S. Myers.

Mr. Kohl quoted at length from a conversation he said he had had with Supervisor Thatcher. He said he knew that Mr. Thatcher had been referred to as spineless, but that Mr. Thatcher had assured him that the county would build a road through the Hastings ranch regardless of what Sierra Madre might do now that it had secured deeds for the roads passing through the Hastings property.

William Lauren Rhoades suggested that the Central avenue improvement be delayed for another year in hope that it might be done with less division of sentiment than now seemed possible and it was at this period that Engineer Hanamann expressed the belief that if Central Avenue is not improved now, it will not be for five years or more.

Leslie Gaze, noted singer-actor, questioned whether in view of the fact that this might not be a "hard winter," the project might not be dropped.
